FR BRIAN'S PRAYER & REFLECTION

Hi – I'm reading "This is My Body: A Call to Eucharistic Revival" by Robert Barron and wanted to share this quote with you.

"Now let us take one more step. Love, in the theological sense, is not a feeling or a sentiment, though it is often accompanied by those psychological states. In its essence, love is an act of the will, more precisely, the willing of the good of the other as other. To love is really to want what is good for someone else and then to act on that desire. Many of us are kind, generous, or just, but only so that someone else might return the favor and be kind, generous, or just to us. This is indirect egotism rather than love.

Mass Readings for the 17th Sunday in Ordinary Time Year B

First Reading – 2 Kings 4:42-44: A man brings Elisha twenty loaves and grain. Despite his servant's doubt, Elisha insists they feed a hundred people, assuring them that there will be leftovers, which indeed happens.

Responsorial Psalm –Psalm 145: All of God's creations thank Him. God provides food in the right season, satisfying all desires. He is just, holy, and close to all who truthfully call upon Him.

Second Reading – Ephesians 4:1-6: Live worthily of your divine call with humility, gentleness, and patience, showing love and unity. Maintain peace, as we are united under one Lord, faith, baptism, and Father.

Gospel – John 6:1-15: When a large crowd gathered, Jesus took five loaves of bread and two fish, gave thanks, and miraculously fed thousands of people. After everyone had eaten and was satisfied, the disciples collected twelve baskets of leftover fragments.
