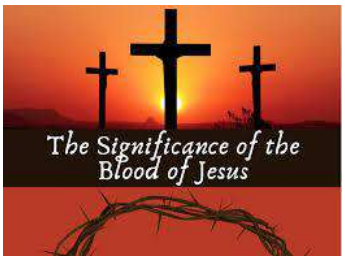
22nd June 2025 – The Most Holy Body & Blood of Christ

FR BRIAN'S PRAYER & REFLECTION



Feast of the Body and Blood of Christ

An architect went into a Catholic church and was admiring the building, the materials used, and painting and the statues, when he spotted a red light shining in the corner. Unfamiliar with Catholic traditions he moved closer until be stopped in front of a strange looking object with a red light above and was intrigued, so approached a person who was kneeling in from of the strange object. Ever so politely he asked why there was a red light over this strange object. The person replied, the strange object is called a tabernacle and inside is the true presence of Jesus Gods Son, in the form of unleavened bread. The architect thought for a while and then said, if that is true, what is inside that little object you called it a tabernacle is more magnificent than this amazing church, and the person praying said yes you are absolutely right.

The mana in the desert was food for the journey for those who fled Egypt, the feeding of the 4000, or the 5000, showed compassion of Jesus ensuring they were fed for the journey home. From a small about of loaves and fish, Jesus fed the multitudes and there was enough for 12 baskets of food and fish left over showing he was generous and had compassion.

When we receive Holy Communion, we receive all of Christ Body and Blood Soul and Divinity it's our disposition, or our sinfulness that limits the true effects of the sacrament, not Jesus.

The saying "the more you put in, the more you get out" is a common idiom that emphasizes the idea that effort and investment directly correlate with results. It suggests that hard work, dedication, and focused energy will lead to greater rewards and outcomes. This principle applies to our relationship with God, with reception of Holy Communion, the more you pray, the more you do for others, the more you gift, the more you receive from reception of our Lords ,Body, Soul, and divinity at communion.

Finally, there are a few people who are still mute when a priest of communion minister pronounces the Body of Christ at communion time. Please respond amen it is so saying nothing is sacrilege ill reverent.

God bless, Fr Brian Carmine

RENEW SUMMITT THAT IS TO BE HELD 3rd / 4th OCTOBER

My in Box like many people inbox is very fill. One of the items that continue to pop up in my inbox is information on Hope and RENEW SUMMITT THAT IS to be held 3 / 4 October 2025 .The guest speaker is Fr James Mallon. Fr James is a Canadian a guru a dynamic speaker with a passion of growing parishes. He is coming at the invite of Bishop John who like Fr James and some of the clergy and some parishioners and myself strongly believe that we can give more and therefore grow out parish communities.

I read a book many years ago about marketing, and story goes like this, A man saw a new stretch of road was to be built not far from him. He purchased a section close to the road and built a fast-food outlet. He opened long hours when one day a man from a sign company came in for a coffee. The sign man said to the owner that his food was fantastic and the coffee the best, but he had driven pass this place for 6 weeks as there was no sign. The sign man said he would create a brand-new sign, and if your business does not pick up, I will not charge you for the sign. You guessed it, business boomed, the fast-food owner needed to hire more staff and expand.

I truly believe in absolute conviction we have something that people are searching for. We have over 400 people who can be walking poster board for our church. We have the most substantial food every offered in history, our LORDS Body and Blood and soul and divinity. Our other sacraments come straight from scripture, Old Testament and New Testament reading from authoritative writers. We have tradition, we have you.

You will enjoy listening to James Mullin, he is worth your time, and so is Jesus worth your time. John Lennon sings a song Imagine all the peoples, just imagine the difference we could all make if we committed to two days of growth and learning, and our hunger satisfied and returning to the parish or school fully alive bright enthusiastic and determined to bring the lost sheep home that we become walking sandwich boards Some will say we are too old, I bet you are not driving a model t car, I bet you are not using a washing board, or a wringer washing machine. I bet you do not have a food safe, instead you have fridge, I bet you do not look at a black and white tv, and that you have electric light instead of a gas lantern. The previous sentence proves it, you are not too old to learn, and you do change, and you do learn new things, it's not too late to learn some more about Jesus our saviour and our church and evangelization. You might just change so much that your children might notice a difference in your faith life, and they might just say I want a bit of that stuff for my children and your grandchildren and they might come home to our/your church.

Costs: We, the parish will pay the entry fee but you will need to cover the cost of accommodation (we don't want to stop anyone from going, so if paying for accommodation is an issue, please see Fr. Brian, we may be able to help).

God bless, Fr Brian Carmine

AN INTERVIEW WITH FATHER HENRI NOUWEN

By: Alicia von Stamwitz, Liguorian, October 1992

Q. How long do you plan to stay at Daybreak?

NOUWEN: I am here permanently. I wrote to my bishop, the Archbishop of Utrecht, Holland, and explained that I wanted not just permission to stay longer, but a mission. He met me at the Trosly L'Arche community and we spent a few days together . . . I wanted him to get to know L'Arche, to understand what I was doing there. Afterward he said, "I understand now, Henri. You have found a home for your self."

Last December, Jean Vanier visited with two other L'Arche leaders to review my first five years here. They interviewed assistants and handicapped members. People could say whatever they wanted and I could say whatever I wanted. They wrote a report and we had a celebration. It was a wonderful experience of affirmation and also of challenge. There are areas I have to work on. I had some questions and some struggles, but it was an enormously important time for me. Afterward I was able to say, "This is my home. I'm ready to make another commitment to stay here." It's been six years now, and I really feel I belong.

Q*. What areas of your life are you "working on"?*

NOUWEN: I am working on three things: on being a prayerful person; on staying close to the handicapped; and on my writing. These are my constant concerns. First of all, I don't pray enough, but I pray more now. Every morning at six o'clock have a half hour of meditation before the Blessed Sacrament. I pray with others too. Secondly, live, work, and travel with handicapped people, so I can stay close to them. But since I am often busy with many things, it's a constant struggle to keep the handicapped members of our community in the center of my life.

Finally, my writing has developed drastically in the last few years. The Return of the Prodigal Son just came out. It's the most important thing I've done, and my most mature book. It came out of my emotional and spiritual journey during the four months I was gone from Daybreak because of depression. I'm working now on a book called The Life of the Beloved, which will be publish in October [1992] by Crossroad. Someday I would love to write about Vincent van Gogh—his paintings and letters continue to inspire me very much. But it remains hard to find the time and inner rest to write.

World Youth Day 2027 | Expressions of Interest

The diocese is taking expressions of interest for those young people who are thinking about attending World Youth Day (WYD) in Seoul, South Korea in 2027. The theme of this next WYD is "Take courage! I have overcome the world." Pope Leo will be there. Pilgrims for this WYD need to be older than 18 to travel with the NZ group. We anticipate an early August 2027 time frame, but we are still waiting to hear officially. This expression doesn't lock anyone in to going, but it means we have a group of people to communicate with going forward. Register your interest at www.tinyurl.com/WYDPN27
